

Dear "Spookerman" Steve:

If ever any audience would require an "explosion of enthusiasm", you'd be the guy I'd recommend. The word summary I would use would be "Wowser!"

Judging from the evaluations that were submitted after the conference, the impact of your presentation was beyond measure. If you recall, my comment to you after the meeting was, "you must have set a land-speed record". As I watched the audience reaction throughout your monologue, within 10 minutes, you had "connected" with each member of your entire audience. The incredible thing was that you had their focus and held their attention for the complete hour.

Masterfully you were able to weave our program elements into your life experiences stories and utilized characters that have touched your life to help the audience understand more clearly the components of the program and its continued impact.

On behalf of the AgriBank District audience, I would like to extend our sincere appreciation for your time and effort. Applause! Applause! Your contribution to the success of our conference will be recorded as a benchmark and worthy of a "standing ovation"!

Sincerely,
